

AIDS Fund Leadership

Established in August 2007, the Leadership Team for the AIDS Fund is working to develop a comprehensive community plan to increase the region's awareness and involvement in the HIV/AIDS crisis; develop strategies for achieving community impact through high-quality, strategic leadership and financial investments; and create an organizational strategic plan for the AIDS Fund.

Co-Chairs

- Dr. David Satcher, President of the Center for Primary Care, Morehouse School of Medicine and former US Surgeon General
- Sandy Thurman, President, International AIDS Trust at the Rollins School of Public Health at Emory University and former Director of National AIDS Policy under the Clinton Administration.

Members

- Stuart Brown, MD Director, Division of Public Health
- Jim Curran, MD MPH, Dean, Rollins School of Public Health, Emory University
- Kevin Fenton, MD PhD, Director, National Center for HIV, STD and TB Prevention, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
- Kandy Ferree, President and CEO, National AIDS Fund
- Dr. Helene Gayle, President and CEO, CARE
- The Honorable John Lewis, United States House of Representatives
- Milton Little, Jr., President, United Way of Metropolitan Atlanta
- Gary Nelson, President, Healthcare Georgia Foundation
- Alicia Philipp, President, Community Foundation for Greater Atlanta